

Consumers love - and live on - their smartphones, tablets and laptops. A cascade of new devices pours endlessly into the market, promising even better communication, non-stop entertainment and instant information. The numbers are staggering. By 2020, four billion people will have a personal computer; five billion will own a mobile phone. But this revolution has a dark side that the electronics industry doesn't want you to see. This film debunks the notion that electronics is a 'clean' industry by revealing the human and environmental cost of electronic gadgets designed to die.

Running time: 75 minutes; Campus Greens will lead a discussion following the film.
