

Hey, Orson, what gives? You're not really Irish, are you?
No, but they say that on St. Patrick's Day, everybody's Irish.
Why do you think you want to be Irish...?
Maybe I would have the Luck of the Irish. With luck, maybe everybody at Wells would join me to be more sustainable!
Fingers crossed, Orson. Fingers crossed.

Recycling is not a matter of luck

Thanks to everyone in our Wells campus community, our new recycling program is taking off. In just the first few months, we have already collected as much recycling as we did all last year.

The waste separation stations seem to help. Most folks have figured out that blue bins are for recycling, gray ones are for landfill trash, and they are properly placing their materials accordingly. We intentionally place these waste station bins in order to help you remember:

Recycling is right – Landfill what's left.

Don't rely on luck. If you are ever confused about what is accepted in our commingled recycling bins – most things are! – please check the info sheets posted over the blue recycling bins. Make recycling a slam dunk at Wells!

Installments

are produced as a community service by the Wells Center for Sustainability and the Environment.

The education of an extraordinary life.

Do some Spring Cleaning!

As you contemplate heading out for a well-earned Spring Break, first take a look through your closets and drawers. Do you have winter clothing you want to retire permanently? Sick of those pajamas? Is that once-rad T-shirt logo no longer doing it?

Consider cleaning out all those garments you no longer want to wear. Bring clean, still-usable clothing items to the Bargain Basement in Main. We will be in the basement doing needed spring cleaning of our own over the break!

Same for the Rumpus Room closet in Macmillan. Have you collected unused folders, pens, binders, cards, you-name-it..? Clear the decks of unwanted office supply items. Drop them off for others to take and use.

If you have dead batteries, blown lightbulbs or empty plastic bags kicking around, drop them off in the designated collection boxes in the Center for Sustainability and the Environment in Zabriskie Hall 213.

"Installment" is a double play on words: these informational mini-newsletters are put inside bathroom cubicles ("in stalls") and the content gets changed out - in "installments."

Get it? Got it? Good!

Did we getcha?

Did the leaders of one of the sustainability-related clubs spot you doing the right thing?

Did you receive a GOTCHA card redeemable for a free 12-oz coffee or hot tea refill at the Express Café? Don't forget to redeem your card before the start of Spring Break. Note too that this free refill will only be dispensed into your own reusable beverage container.

Keep being a Maniac!

Through March 31st, Wells is participating in RecycleMania, a friendly contest among colleges to see who recycles the most.

Keep pitching in – into the right bin, of course! – and help Wells score well in this annual competition.

Give your equipment a break, too!

When you leave for break, PLEASE make sure to turn off all lights. Since you will be out of your room or office for the extended Spring Break period, please turn off and unplug all energy using equipment. Many continue to draw power even when the item is turned off but left plugged in.
