

Sustainability Perspectives

The Language of Waste, Consumption, & Sustainability

Deborah Gagnon, professor of Psychology, will explain how words have power. The way in which words are used has power. This talk focuses on the unique language of the environmental and sustainability movements, and how those words are used to affect -- and effect -- change in attitude, thought, and action. The language of waste, consumption, and sustainability has the power to change our interior lives, our worldviews, and the very way in which we live our lives.
