

Sustainability Perspectives

Sustainability and our Food

Meg Lowe, Sustainability Coordinator for Syracuse University, along with SU students Zainab Pixler and Andrew Greenwald, will explain how industrial agriculture has wreaked havoc on our ecosystems and changed the way we think about food. What if there was a better way that nourished the environment and its inhabitants? Explore how a more sustainable approach to food can encourage the health of the planet and all who live in it.

Monday, April 16, 2018 from 12:20 – 1:20PM
