

Sustainability Perspectives

Lighten Your Study Abroad Footprint

Astrid Jirka, director of the Cornell University Language House and founder of the Green Passport program, created this learning tool to help students and study abroad administrators take into account the social and environmental consequences of studying abroad. A study abroad student herself, Astrid eventually ended up working in the Office of International Programs at Ithaca College for several years where she had the opportunity to research and share the connections between sustainability and international travel.

Wednesday, December 3, 2014 ~ 12:30 – 1:30PM
Stratton Hall Room 209

This Sustainability Perspectives series event is free and open to the public. The series explores the concept of sustainability from a variety of viewpoints.

Wells is committed to providing access to all events; anyone needing assistance should contact Marian Brown, Center for Sustainability and the Environment, at 315-364-3304 or by email at mbrown@wells.edu, as soon as possible.

The education of an extraordinary life.