

Sustainability Perspectives

Knowledge, Perceptions, and Behaviors towards Sustainability: A Comparative Analysis

Srijana Bajracharya, professor and chair of Health Promotion and Physical Education at Ithaca College, will detail the results of her research study - conducted with a colleague from West Liberty University - to examine various characteristics and values as predictors of students' attitudes toward sustainability and related behaviors that support sustainability. The two institutions differ drastically in terms of their sustainability initiatives, so the study also sought to determine if one college's sustainability initiative played a role in changing student pro-environmental behaviors.

Friday, March 20, 2015 ~ 12:20 – 1:20PM
Stratton Hall Room 209

This presentation is being held in conjunction with the Science Colloquium.

All Sustainability Perspectives series events are free and open to the public.
The series explores the concept of sustainability from a variety of viewpoints.

Wells is committed to providing access to all events; anyone needing assistance should contact Marian Brown, Center for Sustainability and the Environment, at 315-364-3304 or by email at mbrown@wells.edu, as soon as possible.

Wells College

The education of an extraordinary life.