

Sustainability Perspectives

Re-Imagining Water: Water Wisdom & Art

Mara Alper is an award-winning media artist and associate professor of media arts, sciences and studies at Ithaca College, where she teaches video production and courses about water.

Open yourself to new worlds of water through art, music, documentaries and animation. These poetic and profound water sources will provide insights that help us re-imagine our relationship with this essential resource so we can preserve and respect it, rather than take water for granted. This evocative presentation features documentary excerpts, animation, humor, and compelling water works by renowned artists and poets. The information motivates audiences to value water in a new way.

Thursday, October 2, 2014 ~ 4:45PM
Stratton Hall Room 209

This Sustainability Perspectives series event is free and open to the public. The series explores the concept of sustainability from a variety of viewpoints.

Wells is committed to providing access to all events; anyone needing assistance should contact Marian Brown, Center for Sustainability and the Environment, at 315-364-3304 or by email at mbrown@wells.edu, as soon as possible.

The education of an extraordinary life.