

Hey, Orson, what's up with your sign?

Well, February is the shortest winter month and we could all shorten winter even more by sleeping through the rest of it.

Seriously? You know humans don't hibernate and neither do owls. What are you REALLY up to?

OK, busted... I just thought that if everybody else slept through the winter, it would leave all the tasty, non-hibernating critters for me and the owlets to catch and eat. Sorry.

Love Your Recycling Bin!

Our waste separation station bins need your love and attention! Blue bins are for recycling – gray ones are for landfill trash. Even the placement of these bins is intended to help you recall:

Recycling is right – Landfill what's left.

If you are confused about what is accepted for commingled recycling – and so many things are! – please check the info sheets posted over the blue recycling bins. Note that single use plastic items are NOT RECYCLABLE! Show you love recycling.

Please pay special attention to how to properly handle hot or cold single-use beverage “go-cups”. Empty paper hot cups and lids and plastic cold cups and lids all go in landfill trash.

Please do not place full or half-full cups of liquid – or ice! – in either the trash or recycling bins.

That practice makes a real mess!

Please treat your recycling bin – and our housekeeping staff – with respect.

Have a more sustainable Valentine's Day

Skip the purchased card. Opt for a hand-written letter or poem on recycled paper.

Flowers: Give a potted plant and/or organic or local flowers. Spend the extra effort to make paper flowers or an origami rose for your special one or paint a pinecone bouquet.

Perfume: Some chemicals that make up the fragrance mix in many perfumes can be toxic. Give an essential oil or other all-natural fragrance that reminds you of your Valentine.

Chocolate: Look for Fair Trade-certified and/or organic chocolate. Spend a fun and romantic evening together making fudge or chocolate chunk cookies.

Valentine's dinner: Making a homemade, local and/or organic meal can be a great – and much lower cost! - alternative to dining out.

Unique Valentine gifts: If you're looking for a one-of-a-kind gift, think vintage. Antique jewelry or some other retro gift can have special meaning without using new resources.

Check the local ReUse Trail to find one of over 40 reuse stores in and around Ithaca:

Be creative and thoughtful.

“Installment” is a double play on words: these informational mini-newsletters are placed inside bathroom cubicles (“in stalls”) and the content gets changed out in monthly “installments.”

Get it? Got it? Good!

Get Spotted!

New GOTCHA cards are out! Campus Greens club members are on the lookout for folks carrying and using their own reusable beverage containers instead of disposable cups. Get “caught” doing the right thing and receive a card redeemable for $1.00 off a barista hot or cold beverage at the GRIND Café.

Show some love – conserve!!

Help Wells save money on electricity. Turn off lights if you are the last one out of any room. If you will be out of your room or office for an extended period, please turn off and unplug all energy-using equipment. Many continue to draw power even when the item is turned off but still left plugged in. Engage your computer's energy saving settings – it's easy!

Think too about your water use. Can you take a shorter shower? Reducing shower times by even as little as five minutes can save nearly 20 gallons of water. Turn off the sink faucet while brushing your teeth. It takes lots of energy to purify, heat, and pump the water to your faucet or shower head.

Whenever it comes to campus resources, use just what you need, but don't waste them!
